Less dark, but not bright yet

- At the higher end of guidance: WPRO's 0.1% QoQ CC growth in IT services was better than our estimate of 1% de-growth and at the upper end of its guided range of -2% to 0%. Excluding gains from the sale of its data center business to Ensono, IT services EBIT margin at 15.6% was largely in line with our estimate of 15.8%. Adjusted PAT at INR18.4b was down 8% QoQ, a miss to our estimate of +2%, as profitability took a hit in the Products business.
- Lesser problems this time around: Growth in the quarter as expected was driven by BFSI (3% QoQ CC) and Retail (2.6% QoQ CC), but client bankruptcies, pressure in HPS and restructuring in India did take their toll. Going forward, WPRO is left with continued challenges in HPS and India, barring which its core business has been benefiting from an improved environment and client mining efforts.
- Expect improvement going forward: Although the guidance of 0-2% QoQ CC for 2QFY19 failed to enthuse, it implies a stemming of the downward trend on a YoY basis (2.6-4.7% YoY CC for 2Q v/s 2.6% YoY CC achieved in 1Q). Margins in the quarter were flattish excluding one-time restructuring expense, the reversal of which, combined with productivity improvement and uptick in revenue growth, should result in improvement hereon.
- Valuation and view: Our estimates for FY19/20 remain largely unchanged as the quarter's beat was offset by a slightly lower guidance than we anticipated. That said, a gradual stemming of key issues in WPRO should result in improved growth and consequently profitability going forward. We note that collectively Communications, Energy and Healthcare are weighing upon revenue growth to the tune of 230bp YoY CC. Although issues seem to be lesser, we reckon sustained improvement and its reflection in performance would be the key trigger for the stock. Our target price of INR300 discounts forward earnings by 14x. Maintain Neutral.

1QFY19: Revenue beat; in-line margins

■ WPRO's 1QFY19 CC revenue growth was 0.1% (est. of -1.0%), at the higher end of its -2-0% guidance. This translates into 2.6% YoY CC growth for WPRO in the quarter; the same rate as seen in 4QFY18.

■ In dollar terms, revenue declined by 1.7% QoQ, implying a cross-currency headwind of 160bp.

Exhibit 1: CC revenue growth above expectations

- IT services EBIT margins (adjusted for gains from the sale of the data center business) at 15.6% contracted by 40bp QoQ against expectations of 15.8% (largely in-line).
- Utilization reached an all-time high of 85.2% and the composition of Fixed Price Projects too reached its highest at 58.9%
- However, the Products business saw a material deterioration in profitability because of added provisions for doubtful debts and shrinking of the business. However, profitability is expected to bounce back to levels since in the last four quarters.

Adjusted PAT at INR18.4b was down 8% QoQ, a miss to our estimate of +2%, as profitability took a hit in the Products business.

Guidance of 0.3 to 2.3% QoQ CC growth in 2QFY19

■ The company expects revenue growth of 0.3-2.3% QoQ in CC terms in 2QFY19 (excluding the impact of divestment of its hosted data center business in 1QFY19).

Multiple factors feed into the guidance for 2QFY19: [1] Greater traction in BFSI,
 [2] Continued restructuring in the India/Middle East business, [3] Uncertainty in HPS and [4] Pressure in Utilities.

Segmental analysis

■ In terms of verticals, a decline was seen in Manufacturing (-5.4% QoQ CC), Healthcare (-4.7% QoQ CC) and Communication (-1.3% QoQ CC). Growth in BFSI however continued to remain strong with the vertical growing at 3% QoQ CC and 14.4% YoY CC.

Amongst geographies, growth was led by Americas (2.9% QoQ CC). The India & Middle East business continued to decline because of restructuring. This quarter, it saw a decline of 7.5% QoQ CC.

■ While Infrastructure Services (-4.6% QoQ CC) and Product Engineering (-1.1% QoQ CC) dragged growth; an incline in Data, analytics and AI (1.5% QoQ CC) and Application Services (3.3% QoQ CC) drove revenue growth.

Takeaways from Management Commentary

- 1Q performance: WPRO met the upper end of its guidance range in 1Q. Continued challenges in the India business and in HPS weighed upon growth, apart from the client bankruptcies. Strength was seen in BFSI, North America, and Product Engineering.
- Strategy update: (i) Digital grew by 6.2% QoQ CC and now constitutes to 28% of revenue; (ii) Growth in top clients was strong, led by WPRO's efforts on client mining; (iii) WIPRO filed 2,042 patents out of which 40% were in new-age technologies, (iv) Localization efforts have picked up pace; proportion of locals in the US is 58%; a high level of localization is also seen in other geographies including APAC and Europe (v) WIPRO saved 1.1% in efforts through automation; revenue per employee was up 4.1% YoY.
- Outlook going forward: Beyond the issues that are expected to be faced in 2Q, WPRO has been seeing strength in its core business. Strong deal wins, healthy order booking and strength in Digital have been adding to confidence around a revival.
- Inline margin: Margins in the quarter were impacted by one-time restructuring expenses, excluding which IT services EBIT margins were in the 16% range. Consolidated margins were lower because of losses in the Products business. The business had done well on the profitability front in the last four quarters and is expected to return to those levels going forward.
- Profitability outlook: Profitability is expected to revive as revenue growth resurrects. Apart from the one-time restructuring expenses that would reverse in 2Q, automation, productivity improvement and improvement in efficiency would play to be key levers.

Change in Estimates: Revenue beat offset by slightly lower guidance

- While WPRO's CC revenue growth of 0.1% was ahead of estimates, its guidance for the next quarter stood at 0.3-2.3% QoQ growth. We had assumed a slightly better guidance given that most issues are now behind and that the sequential impact of problem areas would be lower.
- However, continued restructuring in the India/Middle East business and uncertainty in HPS continue to weigh upon performance. The beat during the quarter has hence gotten offset by the guidance.
- On the margins front, barring one-off expenses, EBIT margins were largely inline. We continue to bank on margin expansion through the year as revenue growth picks-up.
- However, profitability got hit in the Products business, which resulted in a lower-than expected EBITDA and PAT.
- Factoring these changes in, we have adjusted our EPS estimates downward -0.3/1.2% for FY19/20.

Valuation view

A foreword on the long term industry view: Growth for Indian IT should gradually pick-up from current 6-7% as Digital services proliferate, which today are still small to move the needle on overall performance. India will continue to remain the hotbed for talent supply en masse, making a case for increasing shift of Digital business from onsite. That said, with Automation the top priority of every Board, without exceptions, delineation of revenue growth with headcount growth appears obvious – and the only lever to stem the decline in profitability witnessed in recent years.

WPRO in that industry backdrop

- New leadership: The change in leadership at WPRO has been followed by some tweaks to the organization structure, while role redundancies and senior exits are a natural consequence of the process. WPRO to its credit got through with most of those changes swiftly, to shift focus on execution of the strategy than the distraction from getting the team in place.
- Several changes to realign organization: It laid out 6 themes that define its strategic direction.
 - 1) Digital now 28% of total revenue; and growing significantly above company average
 - 2) Client mining - growth in the top 10 customers has been picking up for WPRO, with it bettering company average
 - 3) Markets the company has ramped up its localization efforts and added several sites across key markets
 - 4) Non linearity focusing on R&D efforts, applying for patents and further augmenting capabilities of HOLMES
 - 5) Hyper-automation while significant progress was seen in automating L1 tasks, it has also started seeing productivity improvement in L2 activities
 - 6) Partner ecosystem significant ramp up seen in acquisitions, investments and partnerships

Despite these changes however, WPRO has failed to lift overall growth because of industry-specific and client-specific issues. As these near-term headwinds end, the company would be able to see higher revenue and earnings growth – a convergence to industry growth rates.

Valuation and view - Performance lacking broad-based traction

- As WPRO's new leader, Mr. Abid Ali has chalked out an aggressive plan for WPRO, targeting to reach USD15b revenues with 23% EBIT margin. That implies revenue CAGR of ~20% over the next four years, and if the margins attain the 300bp expansion, then even higher CAGR for earnings. However, as is the case with INFO, this is far-fetched and they will do well to get anywhere near these levels given the current momentum in bread-n-butter business.
- Much before that, WPRO expected to catch up with industry-growth by 4QFY18. However, revenue growth YoY has decelerated in the last six quarters. The guidance of 2.6-4.7% YoY CC growth for 2QFY19 finally shows a reversal in trajectory. However, issues continue to haunt WPRO and there's more pain, although lesser than earlier. A clean chit is therefore still a while away.
- Growth underperformance at WPRO is an outcome of persistent issues with the portfolio mix while Healthcare has turned the corner and Energy & Utilities has started to stabilize (minus Utilities); performance in India and Middle East is being impacted by restructuring. These issues make it difficult to make a case for an immediate recovery in performance.
- WPRO has been active on the investment front, with spending aimed towards building capabilities, training and incentivizing people, acquiring businesses, and investing in strategic accounts. This has dragged margins in the past couple of years. Although with Automation stepping in some benefits can be expected, recovery in the near-term can be ruled out because of the lack of revenue growth and continued weakness in certain pockets.

What it means for the target price

- 3-year view: This key premise of convergence to industry growth drives our expectation of a target multiple two notches higher than our current target multiple for WPRO: 16x 1-year forward, which on FY21E earnings works out to INR380. This implies returns CAGR of 10% at WPRO.
- 1-year view: a gradual stemming of key issues in WPRO, should result in improved growth and consequently profitability going forward. We note that collectively Communications, Energy and Healthcare are currently weighing upon revenue growth to the tune of 230bp YoY CC. Although issues seem to be lesser, we reckon sustained improvement and its reflection in performance would be the key trigger for the stock. Our target price of INR300 discounts forward earnings by 14x. Maintain Neutral.

Key triggers

- Seizure of issues in India and Middle East
- Broad-basing of growth across verticals
- Uptick in margins from automation and productivity initiatives

Key risk factors

- Prolonged weakness in Healthcare/Manufacturing verticals
- Weakness in top accounts
- Softness in the Americas and Europe
